Total Solar Eclipse

I attended a seminar presented by the National Weather Service. The Solar Eclipse was a major topic in this all day meeting.

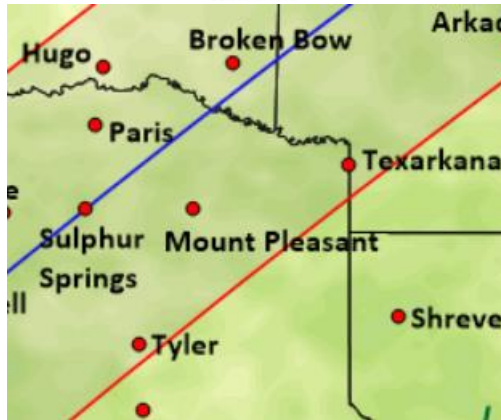

The eclipse will happen on April 8, 2024. Texarkana will be on the very edge of the visibility path. The partial eclipse is predicted to be about 2 minutes in length.

However, Paris and Sulphur Springs is expected to have total eclipse lasting about 4 minutes starting about 1:45pm.
